

OneDigital Partners with Motion Connected to Provide Wellbeing Solution For Employees

New product offering provides OneDigital Customers With Premium Workplace Wellness Program

Atlanta, GA – December 22 – OneDigital, the nation's leading strategic advisory firm focused on delivering health, retirement/wealth and HR solutions for employers of all sizes, announces a new workplace wellbeing solution to support small businesses in partnership with Motion Connected, a leading corporate wellness technology company. This product will allow OneDigital customers to take action in improving the overall health and wellbeing of their population.

OneDigital and Motion Connected developed this comprehensive program to offer smaller organizations an affordable, and effective way to keep their workforce connected and help team members build healthy habits. This solution is especially important for organizations with under 100 employees during this time, where there are hardly any options available.

"With the current workplace atmosphere causing disconnection, burnout and stress, it was more important than ever for our smaller customers to have the ability to step in and support healthier lifestyles for their employees as well as key business priorities like employee engagement," said Shira Wilensky, National Practice Leader, Health and Wellbeing, at OneDigital. "That is why we are thrilled to be able to deliver this strong wellbeing and engagement program with Motion Connected, a solution that will not strain budgets or require additional work on our already busy business owners."

OneDigital customers will be offered access to the Motion Connected app, which allows employees to engage in more daily physical activity, participate in self-care opportunities, educate themselves on important health topics and connect with colleagues through in-app activity challenges.

"We're excited for the opportunity to serve OneDigital customers," said Michael Troup, CEO of Motion Connected. "Our goal with this partnership is to provide a simple yet impactful program that makes a difference in population health, producing better health outcomes and more engaged workforces for organizations in 2021."
